Containing the freſheſt Advices, both Foreign and Domeſtic.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1767.

WARSAW, November 15.

WHEN Prince Repnin, Ambaſſador from Pruſſia, had finiſhed the Diſcourſe which he delivered at the public Audience given him by the King and the States, on the 4th of this Month, the great Chancellor of the Crown made him Anſwer, that with reſpect to the Affair of the Proteſtants in Poland, the Diet would take, on that ſubject, ſuch Reſolutions as ſhould be conformable to Equity, the municipal Laws and Conſtitutions of the Kingdom; Reſolutions which the King's Miniſters, and thoſe of the Republic, would not fail to communicate to him.

Florence, Nov. 8. Letters from Rome make not the leaſt mention of Prince Edward, eldeſt ſon of the late Pretender; and we are more than ever perſuaded that he will not obtain any of the marks of diſtinction and honour attached to the royal dignity.

Naples, Nov. 11. It is reported, that the Marquis de Squillace will return to Spain, the accuſation againſt him having been found falſe, and that he will be reinſtated in his former employments.

Pilgram, in the Circle of Beckin, in Bohemia, Nov. 15.

On the 8th of this month, about ſix in the evening, a fire broke out in the ſuburb of this town, which conſumed ninety-four private houſes, the church, a warehouſe with ſalt to the value of 70,000 florins, an hoſpital for the ſick, and three other public edifices. Several perſons loſt their lives; and had not the wind abated, which at firſt was very high, the whole town would, in all probability, have been in flames.

Madrid, Nov. 11. We learn from the Eſcurial, that the King will come here when the public Tranquility is perfectly reſtored, for the Maintenance of which our Garriſon is to be re-inforced with a Regiment of Swiſs, and two others of national Troops.

Vienna, Nov. 19. Lord Stormount, Ambaſſador from the King of Great-Britain to this Court, returned hither the day before yeſterday, and is about reſuming the functions of his Miniſtry.

Rome, Nov. 22. The Hereditary Prince of Brunſwick is returned from Naples, and will be preſent the day after to morrow, in company with many perſons of diſtinction, at a public meeting of the Academy of St. Luke, to view the ſeveral works which will be exhibited by the artiſts belonging to that Academy, in engraving, painting, and ſculpture. This day his highneſs dines at Freſcati, with the Duke of Braciano.

The Archbiſhop of Cracovia's nephew is juſt arrived here from Poland, and has had a private audience of the Pope, to whom, it is ſaid, he has given an account of the efforts which have been made by his uncle in the Diet of Warſaw, in oppoſition to the proteſtants.

Montpelier, Nov. 20. We have had very heavy rains and ſtorms ſince Michaelmas. Laſt Saturday night all the cellars were full of water, the foundations of ſeveral houſes gave way, and ſome apparently ſtrong built bridges were deſtroyed; beſides which, the thunder was very violent. The chapel of the Penitents at Cette, and two adjoining houſes, are fallen to the ground; but we do not hear of the loſs of any lives. Three houſes were overturned at Bauzigues. Balaruc has ſuffered much; Pignan is in ruins, and there is no appearance of any road to Toulouſe or Cette.

Copenhagen, Nov. 24. Baron de Saldern, Privy Counſellor and Miniſter of State to the Empreſs of Ruſſia for the affairs of Holſtein, arrived here yeſterday, and alighted at the hotel, which had been prepared for him. He has a numerous retinue; among whom are, beſides his ſon, who is Chamberlain to the Great Duke of Ruſſia, and Knight of the Order of St. Staniſlaus, a Prince of the Houſe of Kurakin, Baron de During, and other perſons of diſtinction.

Paris, Nov. 24. The Lieutenant General of Police, has lately ſignified to all the natives of Geneva that are here that the King's intention is, to turn them all out of his dominions, as alſo all their countrymen that are diſperſed throughout the kingdom, if the preſent broils in Geneva, are not immediatly terminated.

Hague, Dec. 2. The day before yeſterday died here, at the age of 106 years and ſix months, Solomon Emanuel, of the Jewiſh nation, and a native of Moravia. He had lived in this place about 70 years, and has left a progeny conſiſting of no leſs than 58 perſons, all living.

Letters from Spain contradict the account of M. de Bougainville's having ſold his ſettlement at the Malouine Iſlands to the Court of Madrid; the money he has received (according to theſe letters) being to indemnify him for the expence he had been at in order to compleat that ſettlement, wherein the court of France would be no way concerned, knowing thoſe iſlands inconteſtably belonged to Spain.

LONDON, December 9.

Extract of a Letter from Norwich, December 4.

"On Monday Sir Henry Gould, Knt. one of the Juſtices of the Court of Common-Pleas, opened the ſpecial commiſſion for the trials of the rioters in this city and county, and we hear his Lordſhip was pleaſed to addreſs himſelf to the Grand Jury in words to the following effect;

"That the occaſion on which he had the honour of his Majeſty's comiſſion to meet them there was a melancholy one, for ſo it muſt appear to every thinking man, that in a Government like this (formed for the benefit and protecting the rights of the meaneſt as well as of the greateſt ſubject) a licentious rabble, in open defiance and contempt of thoſe laws under which they enjoyed all the privileges of free-born Engliſhmen, ſhould in the moſt atrocious manner deſtroy the property of their fellow-ſubjects, ſpread terror and deſolation all around, and wantonly conſume that very Grain the dearneſs whereof was the pretended cauſe of their riotous proceedings: thus by the means defeating the end. And that had theſe unhappy creatures given themſelves a moment's reflection, it muſt have convinced them, that to produce ſcarcity was not the means to make proviſions cheaper, that to plunder the houſes of the owners or venders of corn was not likely to induce them to ſell it at a lower price! that terrifying and frightening thoſe who brought proviſions to market was not likely to make the markets more plentiful, but that every ſtep they took muſt work contrary to the deſired effect. That the ingratitude as well as the folly of theſe rioters was farther aggravated, by flying in the face of Majeſty itſelf, at a time when our Gracious Sovereign, with a parental tenderneſs conſidering his ſubjects, had, with the advice of his Privy-Council, taken the bounty off the exportation of corn, though it had formerly continued when corn was advanced to a much greater price than the preſent. That from his Majeſty's lenity, the commiſſion iſſued on this occaſion was for the trying of felonies and acceſſaries thereto, whereas moſt of theſe delinquents had been guilty of high treaſon; but that his Majeſty, in mercy to them, had avoided their being indicted for that moſt capital offence; acceſſaries in the eyes of the law being malefactors in an equal degree with the actors in any crime; in the ſame manner as the receiver is as bad as the thief. And that, therefore, if any had privately encouraged, or had been any ways inſtigators of theſe riots; it was their duty to inform of them, that they might ſuffer the puniſhment due to ſuch aggravated crimes. And that he could not help thinking that the common people had been actuated by a ſpirit of Licentiouſneſs, and had miſtaken this darling of the lawleſs, for Liberty, the birth-right of the ſubject and the ſupport of the conſtitution; but that the true ſpirit of Liberty was the right of every ſubject to act as he pleaſed in conformity to the laws of his country, and in ſo doing to be certain of their protection."

Friday noon the trials of the rioters ended at Norwich, when the following received ſentence of death, viz. Robert Royce, for beginning to demoliſh and pull down the New-Mills in that city; John Crowforth, for beginning to demoliſh and pull down the dwelling-houſe of Thomas Becket; James Flemming, John Hall, and David Long, for a like offence, at the dwelling-houſe of Robert Elwin, Baker; John Hall, and David Long, a ſecond time capitally convicted, for demoliſhing the malt-houſe of John Clover, at Carrow; James Lincoln, Henry Nobbs, and James Codner, for beginning to demoliſh and pull down the dwelling-houſe of Richard Lubbock.

John Royce, was alſo tried, and found guilty by a ſpecial verdict, of being preſent with other rioters, and encouraging and abetting them in demoliſhing and pulling down the New-Mills; ſubject to the opinion of the Judges, whether the ſaid John Royce is guilty, within the meaning of the Riot Act of the 1ſt of George I.

On Thurſday Evening the trials ended at Reading, and on Friday morning their Lordſhips went to the Town-Hall, in order to paſs ſentence on the Criminals, when the five following were ordered for execution, viz. William Simpſon, and John Skelton, for robbing Samuel Warner on the Highway, of three guineas and ſome ſilver; James Stowers, for entering the houſe of Benjamin White, and ſtealing ſeveral loaves of bread, and ſome bacon and cheeſe; and Daniel Eeland and John Cheer, for riotouſly aſſembling at Steventon, in Berks, and threatening to break open and ſet fire to the houſe of James Stone, the elder, and for extorting 2l. 9d. from James Stone the younger.

The four following are to be tranſported for ſeven years, viz. Thomas Southwell and William Ruſſell, for riotouſly aſſembling, and ſtealing and deſtroying ſeveral quantities of flour; Thomas James, for riotouſly aſſembling at Drayton in that county, and feloniouſly taking away eight quarters and a half of wheat, the property of John Lyford; and John Tame, for riotouſly aſſembling at Steventon, and feloniouſly ſtealing a quantity of bacon, bread, &c. out of the houſe of Benjamin Greenaway.

Extract of a letter from Paris, dated Dec. 1.

"The following anſwer made by the King of Poland to the repreſentations of the Empreſs of Ruſſia, in favour of the Proteſtants in that country, was tranſmitted to Madame Geoffrien.

"I have not forgot the obligations I am under to the Empreſs of Ruſſia, among the means which God Almighty made uſe of to raiſe me to the throne; but when I came to it I promiſed the exact obſervation of my religion throughout my Kingdom. If I was weak enough to abandon it, my life and throne would be expoſed to the juſt reſentment of my ſubjects. I am threatened with forcible means to oblige me to do what is aſked of me, which would reduce me to an Extremity equally unhappy. I perceive ſome danger in whatever reſolution I may take; but I had rather be expoſed to ſuch as my duty and honour induce me to make choice of; and from this time I join with my country in defence of our holy religion."

On Saturday night laſt, a collier was attacked on the Shields Road by two foot pads, one of whom robbed him of five ſhillings, being the whole and the largeſt ſum he had ſaved ſince he drew breath; but upon his repreſenting the diſtreſſed ſituation of his family, the other generouſly gave him a ſhilling, as he imagined. After the collier had got home, and told his caſe to his wife, ſhe aſked him if he had ſaved nothing. Yes, ſays he, Smaſh their bones, they gave me a ſhilling again! and then throwing it upon the table, the wife eagerly ſnatched it up, and was moſt agreeably ſurprized to find they had by miſtake returned him a guinea inſtead of a ſhilling.

The following circumſtance lately happened at a village called Lorton, near Cockermouth: A young man, a ſhoemaker there, having courted a young girl for five years ſucceſſively, at laſt obtained her conſent, and immediately gave orders to the Parſon to publiſh the banns, which would have been done, had not the girl forbid it. Within a few hours after ſhe went to her lover, and told him ſhe repented of what ſhe had done, and if he would get a licence, ſhe would marry him. The young man, willing to fulfil his promiſe, procured a licence, and the next morning they, attended by ſeveral of their friends, repaired to the church, and ſent for the Parſon to celebrate the nuptials. In the mean time the intended bride thought fit to retract a ſecond time, and being aſk'd the reaſon, ſhe made this reply, "Will you wed yan whether yan will or not." Upon which they all returned home, and the young man committed the licence to the flames.

HARTFORD, (in Connecticut) January 12.

The Weather which of late has been very cold, changed to warm; and laſt Monday began to rain, which continued that Night and next Day, (there being a good deal of Snow on the Ground) it occaſioned a great and ſudden Flood, which has done great Damage to the Mills, Dams, Bridges, &c. In this Place a large Dam is carried away, together with a Saw-Mill, and the greateſt Part of a Grift-Mill, in which was deſtroyed a conſiderable Quantity of Grain and Meal; another Grift-Mill on the ſame Stream has received ſome Damage, and the Great-Bridge, was with the greateſt Difficulty preſerved. A Warehouſe, fitted up for, and occupied by a Family, at the Ferry, was entirely carried off by the Ice, and the Family very narrowly eſcaped, eſpecially the Woman, who was confined to her Bed, with a lame Leg.——Happily the Ice ſtop'd before the Flood got to its Heighth, or 'tis probable, all the Stores and Dwelling-Houſes at the River-ſide had been ſwept away.—All the Weſt-Diviſion Bridges, but One, are carried away, and their Mills much damaged—beſides the above, the Town will ſuffer greatly in the Loſs of Fences, which are prodigiouſly damaged——At Middletown, the Great Bridge lately erected, is carried away, as is alſo ſeveral other Bridges on the ſame River—in the Weſt part of that Town ſeveral Bridges, Mills, and Dams are ſwept away.—Mr. Stephen Blake, of that Place, an Under Sheriff, and his Son about 12 Years old, were both unfortunately drowned, in attempting to croſs a Bridge, at the South End of the Town—they were both on one Horſe. Mr. Blake ſuſtained a fair Character, and his Death is lamented by his Acquaintance. Their Bodies have been ſince taken up and buried in one Grave.—At Suffield, all their Mills, Dams and Bridges are either carried away, or much damaged; and it is ſaid it will be ſome Time before any of their Mills can be fixed for grinding.—At Farmington, a Fulling-Mill, with its Dam, has been carried off; their Bridges are good deal damaged, but none of them are entirely gone.—The Bridge at Windſor, which lately coſt 200l. in building, is deſtroyed. At Wintonbury, a Fulling-Mill, and a Dam, belonging to one Capt. Gillet was carried away, together with a Quantity of Cloth that was in the Mill. On the Poſt Road between this Place and New-York, there is only Kingſbridge and a Bridge at Norwalk, left ſtanding.—New-Haven has ſuffered very much, having loſt three or four large Bridges, and two or three Dykes made for daming out the Tides.——In ſhort, our Intelligence is very diſagreeable, from all Parts of the Colony, no Town having eſcaped ſharing ſome Loſs, the whole of which will amount to conſiderable throughout the Government.

NEW-HAVEN, JANUARY 9.

There are ſome remarkable Circumſtances of the preſent Seaſon worthy of public Notice. The Weather hath been two or three Degrees colder here, than hath been known for thirty Years paſt. The Degrees in extream Cold by the Thermometer were as follows,

Extream Cold.	Dec.	31ſt,	1766. Deg.	36
	Jan.	1ſt,	1767.	25
		2d.		26 and a half
		3d.		28.

January 5th and 9th there fell a very heavy warm Rain. The Snow was ſuppoſed to be about 15 Inches deep on a Level; this being diſſolved together with the Rain, as the Ground was then hard froze, occaſioned the greateſt Flood or Swell in the Rivers, that was ever known perhaps in our Country.

Almoſt all the Bridges, Dams and Mills hereabouts and elſewhere, as far as we can get Intelligence were ſwept away, and others greatly damaged, by the heavy Torrents of Ice and Water poured in upon them. And conſidering the Difficulty of repairing of them at this Seaſon of the Year, ſuch an Event may be juſtly conſidered as a ſevere Rebuke of divine Providence on our Land.

PHILADELPHIA, January 8.

To-morrow Night a Charity Sermon will be preached at St. Paul's Church, by the Reverend Mr. ALKIN, when a Collection will be made, for the Relief of the poor Priſoners now in the Goal of this City, who are in a moſt miſerable Condition in this inclement Seaſon, for the Want of neceſſary Food, Cloathing, &c.

On Sunday next, a Charity Sermon will be preached at Chriſt-Church and St. Peter's, both Forenoon and Afternoon, for the Benefit of the poor Priſoners confined in the Goal of this City, and other poor diſtreſſed Perſons, the Collection will be made at the ſame Time in the Churches.

On Tueſday ſen'night departed this Life, in the Seventy-fourth Year of his Age, Septimus Robinſon, Eſq; born in this City, formerly a Repreſentative in Aſſembly, ſeveral Times elected High-Sheriff of the County, and many Years one of the Juſtices of the Common-Pleas, Member of the Corporation, and by them choſen an Alderman of this City.—A ſincere Friend, an Honeſt Man!

From the very great and unexpected thaw Saturday last, our River is pretty clear of Ice; and the Veſſels at Reedy Iſland, are ſoon expected up.

From the Country we learn, the Freſhes have been ſo great, that the Roads, in many Places, were impaſſable; and it is feared a great deal of Damage is done to the Mills, Bridges, &c.

And we hear that on Monday Night, at the Middle Ferry on Schuylkill, the Ice carried away all the Boats, broke the Ropes, tore the Wharf, and did other conſiderable Damage, ſome of the Outhouſes being waſhed away by the Water overflowing the Banks.

Extract of a Lettter from London, November 8, 1766.

"As to Politicks, there is nothing to write on this Head till the Parliament meets next Tueſday, when the State Combatants will certainly ſtart. You will ſee, in the Papers, that a Coalition between Lord Chatham, the Duke of Bedford, Earl Temple, and G. Greenville is ſaid to have taken Place; but I aſſure you there is no Foundation for ſuch a Report. They will all be ſtrongly in the Oppoſition; what Figure they will make, we ſhall ſoon now ſee, but Lord Chatham will certainly have enough upon his Hands.

"The firſt Buſineſs the Parliament will go upon, it is thought, will be the Corn Bill, and other Laws for regulating the Price of Proviſion; if that can be done to any purpoſe.---After that, the Affairs of the Eaſt-India Company will probably engroſs their Attention; and I believe they intend to take the Territory they have acquired in India, under the Protection of the Britiſh Government, allowing the Company a reaſonable Part of the Revenues of it. This will ſecure their Conqueſt, which they would otherwiſe be in great Danger of loſing, as it is almoſt impoſſible they can maintain it by their own Strength alone.---They talk too of an equal Land Tax, and other Schemes, which will be very agreeable, if they are carried into Execution.

"As the Parliament is drawing near its Concluſion, they are beginning already to canvas for the new Elections, though at the Diſtance of almoſt two Years. This is a ſad, but unavoidable Inconvenience; becauſe the public Buſineſs always ſuffers on theſe Occaſions, and the Morals of the People are greatly corrupted.

WANTED,

A White Nurſe with a good Breaſt of Milk. Enquire of the Printer.

Charles-Town, February 12, 1767.

For the ENTERTAINMENT of the CURIOUS,

Will be exhibited at the Library Room in Union-Street,

A Courſe of EXPERIMENTS,

In that inſtructive and entertaining Branch of

NATURAL PHILOSOPHY, CALLED,

ELECTRICITY,

To be accompanied with Lectures on the Nature and Properties of the ELECTRICK FIRE.

By WILLIAM JOHNSON.

THE courſe conſiſts of two lectures, in the firſt of which all the properties of that wonderful element, as far as the latelt diſcoveries have made us acquainted therewith, and the principal laws by which it acts, are demonſtrated in a number of curious experiments, many of which are entirely new. Among many other particulars will be ſhown that the electrick fire commonly produced by the friction of glaſs, and other electrick ſubſtances, is not created by that friction, but is a real element or fluid body diffuſed through all places in and near this earth; that our bodies contain enough of it, at all times, to ſet an houſe on fire. Alſo many errors that have crept into this branch of Natural Philoſophy, will be expunged, and the true theory thereof eſtabliſhed on the ſolid foundation of reaſon and experiment.

In the ſecond lecture this fire is ſhown to be real lightning from its conſtantly and invariably producing the ſame effects as lightning does; in proving and explaining which, moſt of the effects of lightning will be imitated by the electrick fire, ſuch as killing animals, melting metals, tearing and rending bodies through which it paſſes; together with many curious experiments, naturally repreſenting the various phenomena of thunder ſtorms, accounting for their cauſes, and explaining their effects. A practical method of preſerving ourſelves, our houſes and effects, from the deſtructive violence of lightning, will likewiſe be ſhown; the efficacy of which will be demonſtrated by ſuch indubitable proofs, from experience, as have not hitherto been exhibited to the world.

Thoſe who deſire to have their habitations effectually guarded from the fatal violence of one of the moſt awful powers of nature (with which this colony in particular has been often dreadfully viſited) may learn, from theſe lectures and experiments more of the nature and properties of lightning than has been known in the world until within theſe few years. They will, at the ſame time, have an opportunity of being fully convinced that the method propoſed for their ſecurity, if put in practice, with proper precaution, will be attended with ſucceſs; and conſequently that, inſtead of having any juſt objection thereto, from a perſuaſion of its being preſumptuous, we have the utmoſt reaſon to bleſs GOD for a diſcovery ſo important and eminently uſeful. "A prudent "man foreſeeth the evil and hideth himſelf; but the ſimple "paſs on, and are puniſhed." PROV. xxii. 3.

As the knowledge of nature tends to enlarge the human mind, and give us more exalted ideas of the GOD OF NATURE, it is preſumed that this courſe will prove to many an agreeable and rational entertainment.

The firſt courſe will be on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY next, to begin at three in the afternoon, and will be repeated on THURSDAY and FRIDAY following; likewiſe on the correſponding days in the three following weeks, provided the requiſite dryneſs of the air will permit.

 Tickets to be had at Charles Crouch's Printing-Office, and at Meſſrs. Dillon and Backhouſe's Taverns, at 40s. for both lectures.

N. B. No perſon to be admitted without a Ticket, by paying at the door, as the inconvenience is great, and muſt be obvious to every one.

Said JOHNSON likewiſe propoſes to exhibit a courſe of experiments, (to be accompanied with an explanatory lecture) in that eminently uſeful branch of natural PHILOSOPHY,

Called MAGNETISM.

IN this courſe all the principal properties of the Magnet or Loadſtone will be demonſtrated in a number of curious experiments, and a rational theory of Magnetiſm founded thereon, by which the polar direction, and inclination or dip of the magnetical Needle, may be naturally accounted for.

The uſe and application of this moſt ſurprizing natural power to the important purpoſes of navigation, will likewiſe be ſhewn.—The defects of the common ſea compaſſes will be particularly conſidered and pointed out, and the lateſt improvement which the celebrated Doctor Knight has made in that moſt uſeful inſtrument, by which it has attained its utmoſt degree of perfection, will be ſhewn and explained; the knowledge of which is of the utmoſt importance to all perſons concerned in trade and navigation.

The courſe will conſiſt of upwards of twenty experiments, amongſt which are thoſe performed by Doctor Knight before the Royal Society, with many others equally curious and inſtructive, to be performed with ſeveral natural Magnets, together with large magnetical ſteel bars of a ſurprizing degree of ſtrength, which will give a touch twice as ſtrong as the beſt Loadſtone yet known.

The lecture to begin as ſoon as thirty perſons have ſubſcribed. Subſcriptions taken in by the Operator at the Library Room, where Tickets will be given out at the time of ſubſcription, at one Dollar each.
